Let there be light

By Benyamin Cohen

Thanks to our friends over at the Protocols blog for bringing this to, um, light. The new Kosher-Lamp™ brand shabbos lamp is on the market. The device, which allows you to turn off and on an electric light on Shabbat, comes complete with rabbinic approval. All for the low cost of $24.95. Truth is, it's actually not such a bad idea.
